Mine Projects At Jordan River To Be Launched

VICTORIA (CP) — Two of Canada's biggest mining companies have teamed up to finance development of property on the southwestern end of Vancouver Island, it was learned today.

Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada and Noranda Mines Ltd. will spend about $600,000 on a mine entrance if the plan is approved by shareholders at a meeting October 17.

The agreement provides for Consolidated to assume 85 per cent of the development and Noranda 15 per cent.

The development company would be called Sunro Mines Ltd. Mining will be for copper.

A subsidiary of Consolidated owns 30 copper claims at the mouth of Jordan River which were last worked in 1931, but it is believed at least 1,000,000 tons of ore are still to be explored.

According to one report, Noranda has spent close to $60,000 on development of the property this year, and engineers have been in the field off and on for three years.

The ore body was discovered by a veteran mining man, George F. Winkler, and two companies were organized for exploration, Sunloch and Gabbro Mines.
