Southern Cross Is Still Lost

SCHOONER I'M ALONE

The British schooner I'm Alone, the sinking of which by United States coast guards off the Louisiana coast
in the Mexican gulf, is causing a dispute as to whether the action of the coast guards was justified. The skipper, Captain Randall, a Nova Scotian, states he was sunk 223 miles off the American coast, and in international waters. The ship is of Canadian registry.

Premier King Makes No Announcement On I'm Alone Sinking

OTTAWA, April 2.—Premier Mackenzie King had nothing to announce with respect to the I'm Alone case at the conclusion of today's cabinet meeting. The prime minister intimated that there would have to be ample consideration and possibly further exchange of communications between Ottawa and Washington, before the government is prepared to adopt any definite position in the matter.
The case, it is understood, was not discussed at the cabinet meeting today.

HON. H. G. CARROLL SUCCEEDS GOVIN, QUEBEC PROVINCE

Will Be Commissioned Today
as Lieutenant-Governor
Former Parliamentarian

QUEBEC, April 2.—Hon. H. G. Carroll, now vice-president of the Quebec liquor commission, received official notification this afternoon that he had been named lieutenant-governor of the province of Quebec. The official was not notified immediately when his commission would arrive, so that he may be sworn and then prologue the session of the legislature, but it is believed here it may be possible to arrange the two vital matters for tomorrow, the necessity being urgent.

Hon. Henry George Carroll, was born at Kamouraska, Quebec, on January 31, 1866, the son of Michael and Marguerite Campbell Carroll. He was educated at Saint Anne's college and Laval university and was called to the bar in 1890. He practiced for some years at Fraserville and served as crown prosecutor.

He sat in parliament from 1891 to 1904 as Liberal member for Kamouraska, and was solicitor-general for Canada from 1902 to 1904.

On January 29, 1904, he was appointed a judge of the superior court of Quebec. In 1908, he was promoted to the king's bench.

In 1912 he was chairman of the royal commission appointed to inquire into the liquor traffic in the province of Quebec. In 1921 he was appointed vice-chairman of the liquor commission to the organization of which he rendered valuable service.

In addition to many other public offices, he was for some time Liberal organizer for the province of Quebec and was one of the signatories of the address from the Liberal party of Canada to the Pope, receiving the appointment of papal delegate to Canada in 1896.

COMMISSIONED TODAY
OTTAWA, April 2.—The commission of the new lieutenant-governor of Quebec, Hon. H. G. Carroll, will go forward to him this evening. Consequently, there need be no further delay in prorogation of the Quebec legislature's session. Lieutenant-Governor Carroll was appointed at a meeting of the dominion cabinet held this afternoon.

AIRPLANES FAIL FIND TRACE OF PACIFIC PLANE

Native Runners, Launches Also Used in Extensive Search
in Australia

BELIEF IS THAT
FLYERS ARE SAFE

Southern Cross Forced Down
Some Days Ago When on Flight to Europe

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 3.—(Wednesday)—The search for the airplane, Southern Cross and the four men it carried, which has been carried on by native runners, launches and airplanes, was still unsuccessful today and nothing had been learned to relieve the general anxiety for the flyers.

Two additional planes today joined the hunt. One, the Canberra, is the largest airplane in New South Wales and is equipped with radio.
The other is an amphibian plane of the defence department which was thought to be especially well suited for the work, since bodies of water offer the best landing places in the rough country being searched. Three other airplanes will probably join in the work soon.

Nothing has yet been heard here from the native runners who are searching the sparsely peopled country in the neighborhood of Wyndham. The silence of the lost men has not been regarded as necessarily a bad omen, since their radio generator was operated by air driven apparatus which would not function if they had landed.

The Southern Cross, veteran of a flight across the Pacific from the United States, was en route to England with two of its original crew and two other men when it disappeared.
The missing men are Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, Pilot Charles T. Uim,
Navigator Litchfield and Radio Operator
McWilliam.

BOY CALMLY TAKES SHOT AT SHERIFF

Tells Jury of Row in Which Mother Was Shot; Deputy
May Face Charge

GENEVA, Ill., April 2.—A coroner's jury today recommended that a deputy sheriff who shot and killed an Aurora, Ill., woman during a liquor raid, be held to the county grand jury for prosecution on a charge of manslaughter.
The jury reached the verdict after spending the day hearing witnesses
tell of a raid on the night of March 25, on the home of Joseph De King of Aurora, during which De King was beaten into unconsciousness by Deputy Roy Smith, who also shot Mrs. Lillian De King. Gerald De King, 12 years old, then shot and wounded the deputy who had killed his mother.

Gerald, slim, fair-haired and dressed in knickerbockers, was the principal witness at the inquest. He told how he had shot and wounded Smith after watching the deputy club his father into insensibility and shoot and fatally wound his mother.

"I just picked up a revolver and shot him," said the boy without a quaver in his voice. "I didn't aim. I just shot." In one vital point the boy's testimony disputed that of the deputy.
Smith from his hospital cot in Elgin
earlier in the day told the jury Mrs.
De King was pointing a pistol at him
when he stumbled and shot her accidentally after the boy shot him.

Gerald said his mother was seated at a phone, calling for help, when Smith fired at her and that he himself did not shoot until his mother had fallen.

Nine Aldermen Running on Mayor Thompson's Slate Elected, Chicago

CHICAGO, April 2.—The voters of 11 Chicago wards cemented the city council more firmly in Mayor William Hale Thompson's grip today, electing nine of his adherents to aldermanic seats. The election was one of Chicago's most mild mannered, the slugging of a policeman being the sole unpleasant incident.

HAMILTON, Ont., April 2.—Last night
Joe Maturo, was restless in his sleep and rolled over to the extreme edge of his bed. It was well that he did, for a bullet crashed through the window of his room in rapid succession, and when police examined the spot this morning,
one of the bullets was found lodged in not hurt and police are seeking the

PERCY WILLIAMS MAXIMUM SPEED TEST 24 MILES

Has Remarkable Capacity of Attaining His Speed With-
in Three Seconds

TORONTO, April 2.—"The psychology of Olympic Sport," was the title under which Dr. Charles H. Best, of London, illustrated the results of his experiments on Olympic athletes, made last year in Amsterdam, at the annual conference of the Ontario Educational association, school health section today.
Dr. Best attended the games, and in Toronto afterwards also examined Percy Williams, of Vancouver, sprint champion. His object was to find out the amount of energy used by the athletes
and the time it took them to reach their peak speed.

Williams' remarkable capacity of accelerating to his best speed within three seconds was commented upon by Dr. Best. His maximum speed was 23 or 24 miles an hour and the natural friction of the Vancouver athlete's muscles is less than any of the other prominent athletes tested, he said.

"Russell of Cornell university is the only other sprinter whom we know to have attained a higher maximum speed than Williams," Dr. Best went on, "and this comparison is not altogether satisfactory since for the tests Russell was on an outdoor track and Williams on an indoor track wearing short spikes."

Sunday morning at Chinatown. The alleged attack was made on the river bank at the rear of a Chinese store.
The injured man was discovered later by Chinese children. Chief of Police Harding was notified and the injured man was brought to Chilliwack.
He was suffering from severe wounds

TWO-DAY BATTLE AT JIMENEZ IS FEDERAL GAIN

Mexican Federal Airplanes Scatter Death Among
Fighting Revolters

MOST BRILLIANT
VICTORY TO DATE

Rebels Flee Rapidly; Lacruz
Also Falls to Federal Troops;
Dead Strew Streets

MEXICO CITY, April 2.—The Mexican presidential headquarters announced late tonight that the two-day battle with rebel forces at Jimenez, Chihuahua, had ended in complete victory for federal troops.

The announcement given out at Chapultepec Castle at 11:30 p. m.
said:
"The bloody battle which has been fought during two days at Jimenez between the federal army commanded by General Almazan
and the main body of the rebels
can be said almost the entire force of the northern rebels, has resulted in the most brilliant and definite victory that the national army has obtained in the present campaign."

General Calles, from his headquarters at Hermosillo, relayed to Chapultepec a message here from Lieutenant Colonel Gustavo Leon,
who had just landed at Dolores, Chihuahua, after a flight over Jimenez and the rebel lines.

Leon reported that the rebels
were rapidly fleeing from Jimenez
and that he bombed them and fired at them with his machine guns.
It was said only a few rebels remained in the vicinity of the town and that federal aviators were attempting to cut off retreat of the army by bombing the rebel trains.

The aviator reported that a great number of dead and wounded could be discerned from the air on the streets of Jimenez. He said the railroad station at Jimenez was burning.
FEDERAL GAIN

MEXICO CITY, April 2.—General Jaima Carrillo tonight informed the president that the federal army of the west coast had occupied Lacruz, Sinaloa.

MEXICO CITY, April 2.—A ring
of federal guns last night pent up the main army of the Mexican rebels in the straggling streets of the desert town of Jimenez, where the lines of retreat were dropping death
from the skies and federal artillery reported mastery of the rebel machine guns. Mexico City had received this information from General Calles, but rebel headquarters at Chihuahua City reported capture of 1000 federal soldiers in an engagement south of Jimenez and declared major battles between their forces and the federals was yet to come.

Wire communications between Chihuahua City and Jimenez has been cut.
The government described insurgent troops, as "bottled" within the railroad station and their positions within a limited radius in the town.
Rebels were declared as having made desperate but futile attempts to break through the federal lines.

Fighting was not but full lists of casualties could not be procured.
A serious situation between the United States government and the rebels was created when rebel airplanes
lacking the federal garrison of Naco, Sonora, bombed the United States town
of Naco, Arizona.

The bombing was apparently unintentional but spread terror in the town, damaged buildings and wounded a United States citizen.
In the west coast campaign, the federals claimed a victory in which the insurgents lost 100 killed, 50 wounded and many prisoners. The rebels were beating a retreat in disorder northward.

per cent interest in the Mayville group of the Devlin Mining company, located near Bear River, Manitoba, and not far from the power line from Great Falls. Ore is copper-nickel and surface outcrops indicate possible tonnage. Diamond drilling will be undertaken to determine grade and quantity.

EXTREME EAST

"Options were taken on a copper property at Goshen and at copper-zinc property at New Ireland, both near Petticoat, New Brunswick. Diamond drilling, however, failed to show ore in commercial quantities in either and the options were abandoned.

"Our large staff of examining engineers were very busy in arranging and keeping in touch with prospecting parties and in examining new properties. Owing to the general popularity of mining stocks and remarkable interest being taken by financial houses, prices of promising prospects seem unreasonably high to a legitimate operating company, and negotiations are difficult to complete on a fair valuation. Negotiations, however, are still being carried on, for the privilege of developing and defining the outlook of properties of seeming merit.

"An exploratory party spent the season in the Chibougamau district in a closer investigation of properties in which the company became interested last year. Work generally produced disappointing results, although certain showings justify additional work if transportation facilities should be improved.

"Prospecting parties were active throughout the year in nearly all provinces of the Dominion and in Newfoundland.

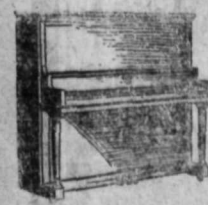

Discoveries of gold ores of apparent commercial importance and locations were made on the Albany river, west of Port Hope in Ontario, and at Island

"It wasn't easy at first," she'll admit. "I found that a sedentary job indoors all day was almost too much for me. I realized that if I was going to make good on the job—and I loved it—I'd have to keep myself in the very pink of condition.

"I've done it with Nujol—nothing else. It's kept me from having headaches and colds and that awful let-down feeling. Kept my nerves from getting jangled and fatigued, too. My doctor tells me that Nujol isn't a medicine. It's simply a pure natural substance. It keeps your system functioning as nature meant it to, even under abnormal conditions. Lake, near the boundary between Manitoba and Ontario. A small crew is at work on the former, and the result of the surface trenching already performed indicates that some underground development is justified.

"A copper discovery was made in township 168, Ontario, about 24 miles north of Dean lake on the Soo Line and 18 claims located. Preliminary work has been encouraging.

"A copper discovery was also made in the Bridge River country, Clinton mining district, B.C., some nine claims located. Values in gold and silver negligible and, with copper as the predominant mineral, its commercial importance is rather doubtful so far from transportation, although these conditions may be shortly improved.

"An arrangement was made with two prospectors, who reported important mineral in the Howser lake section of the Nass district, Portland Canal mining division, whereby some 54 claims were located on behalf of the company, the prospectors retaining a 10 per cent interest. These holdings cannot be investigated until the summer and their value at present is unknown.

LABOR AND MINE SUPPLIES

"There was an abundant supply of labor for all definite operations. Hand steel men, however, are undoubtedly becoming scarcer. This, however, is not a serious situation on account of the development of the portable compressor and other sectional equipment.

"Wages were maintained at practically the same level as last year and the labor turnover was practically negligible, due no doubt in part to the generous policy of the company regarding shares and bonuses.

"Prices of explosives and all general mine supplies showed a slight reduction over 1927.

STAFF

"I cannot commend too highly the whole-hearted cooperation and the zealous and efficient performance of all members of the staff of the mining department.

"The following engineers were in charge of the various operations of the company: Major A. B. Ritchie, assistant manager of mines; E. C. Montgomery, general superintendent of Sullivan mine; William Lindsey, underground superintendent of Sullivan mine; F. A. Fortier, chief engineer of Sullivan mine; F. S. Peters, superintendent of Roseland properties, and in charge of exploration work in the Roseland-Tail district; L. W. Ouchterlony, in charge of Ainsworth and Nelson districts; Dan Matheson, superintendent of Hunter V. mine; C. A. Seaton, superintendent of the Coast Copper company, and June mine; M. O'Brien, superintendent in charge of operations of coast properties, with in charge of the Big Muskrat, E. E. D. K. Knowles and W. E. Althoffson Hughes, in charge of the Bemerad group; McLeod, White, in charge of Boulder creek placer, and W. M. Ogilvie in charge of Slate and Manson creek placer.

"The exploration and examination work was in charge of the following engineers who also controlled certain development operations in their several districts: George H. Kilburn, coast section of British Columbia and Alaska, assisted by D. C. McKechnie; J. K. Cram, Yukon and Alton district; R. B. Shelley, states of Washington and Idaho; C. M. AIRPORT SITES OFFERED COUNCIL

Crescent Valley Man Writes Describing Two Sites; No Action Taken

No action was taken by the city council last night on an offer of H. Bourgeois, Crescent Valley, of two sites for an airport. The sites were described as: One "nine acres long and an average of two acres wide" and the other "10 acres long and about one and a half acres wide." Both sites were cleared, the letter making the offer stated.

In answer to Mayor R. D. Barnes, City Engineer Boyd C. Affleck stated that there was no such local measure as an acre but that what was probably meant that, taking an average of 10 squares, the one field was 10 times that length. The other measurements were reckoned in the same way.

The letter invited the city council to "come along and see it."

ing well, you go to your doctor and tell him about one organ; your stomach, your heart, your lungs, your head or some other one part. You are usually interested in one organ only. If it is your heart about which you are concerned and your doctor tells you it is all right, you are greatly relieved and of course have a right so to feel.
However your heart may be all right and yet any number of other things may be interfering with the "health running" of that body of yours, a slow intestine, bad teeth or tonsils, a sluggish liver, a "dropped" stomach, poor carriage of the body.
Now just as the engine of a car may be all right, but the car can be "stalled" or work poorly if the fan belt is loose, the carburetor has the wrong mixture, the tires carry insufficient air, and other "minor" conditions, so also can little troubles in that body of yours prevent you having perfect health. The lesson of course is that as you have your car inspected, so should you have your body completely inspected by your family doctor once or twice a year.

Railroad Building in Kootenay
Kootenay has before it an era of railroad building, the first of many years.

While we get some through business now, the volume of it is comparatively small and small indeed to what we may expect a few years after the Kootenay Landing—Procter line has been completed.
From Trail the company is about to build the line to Metah Falls, which will also result in the development of a great deal of business for Kootenay.
The Metah Falls line will not develop through traffic, but it will carry an enormous amount of freight to Trail smelter—freight in the form of ore for treatment at the Metah Tadanac plant.
In the Pend d'Oreille and Metah districts are huge ore bodies, now under development, but sufficiently developed to ensure additional feed for the Trail smelter for very many years.
From this increase in business at Trail the whole district will benefit, as it benefits directly or indirectly from every dollar of production throughout Kootenay and Boundary.

You are considering the purchase of an automobile. Perhaps you have been driving a certain type and as you think of trading it in for a new car you are in doubt as to whether to buy a car of the same make or another make entirely.
The car you have been driving has been satisfactory in many ways but one or two "minor" parts have given you trouble.
Now if these troubles were of a minor nature why do you hesitate about buying one of the same make? Because the service you have received from the agent has not been satisfactory. Now the only way you can get the most from your car is to let the agent who sold it to you take it in for "inspection" at regular intervals. He not only goes over the engine, which is the "heart" of the car, but he looks at the fan belt, carburetor, the tires, springs, steering apparatus, and all the other parts that have a bearing on the ability of the car to run well, and to run so that you are comfortable. May Premier Soon Recover
Premier Tolmie has done the wise thing in retiring for a period of rest.
During the general election campaign he was under a tremendous strain. It is an arduous task to travel all over this province in a few weeks, travelling by day and by night, by train or by auto, and addressing two or three meetings during every 24 hours.
Many a younger man would have bent under the strain.
Following the general election, the premier found that the strain continued. After a party has been in opposition for 12 years, a new premier is under a tremendous pressure. Everyone wants to see him personally to suggest this and ask for that.
Policies had to be developed, the session had to be prepared for. Day after day for many more than eight hours the premier of a new government is kept under great physical strain.
Not only supporters of Premier Tolmie's party but the public generally in British Columbia will wish the premier a speedy recovery, a speedy and complete regainment of robust health. We all realise that the premier is an asset to the province.

What palm and olive oils do
The need for thorough, but gentle, cleansing of the skin is universally recognized. Oil secretions, dust, dirt, make-up, clog the pores. Unless they are removed daily, they will harden into blackheads and pimples or cause sallowness and a dull, lifeless skin.

INTELLIGENCE TEST FEATURE AT ROTARY

Rev. W. C. Mawhinney Gets Luncheon Next Week for Turning in High Score

At the weekly Rotary luncheon held yesterday at the Hume hotel a new feature was added to the program in the form of a Rotary Intelligence test. The test consisted of a series of 20 questions bearing directly on the different phases of Rotary and was compiled by Secretary George Horsted, who administered the test. A free lunch was the prize offered to the member scoring the greatest number of points, which when the scores were announced, was awarded to Rev. W. C. Mawhinney. Prior to the test the secretary announced that the attendance at luncheons for the month of March was better than it had been since December 1926.

A Lesson in Personal Hygiene

This is the advice of leading doctors: "Discard makeshift sanitary napkins—don't risk good health."

MANY mental and physical troubles of women may be traced to inadequate sanitary protection. Peace of mind, physical comfort, can only come through using proper sanitary napkins.

Kotex is advised unanimously by modern doctors. It is most comfortable to wear, it fits like a garment. Cellucotton absorbent wadding is the perfect absorbent for this purpose. And it deodorizes by a special process.

Kotex is easy to adjust, to fit individual needs. And easy to dispose of—follow directions in each package. Get it without hesitancy at any drug, dry goods or departmental store.

"The man you can't rattle"

Nine times out of ten, the man who keeps cool gets the best of a business deal. The strain of modern business life makes heavy demands on the nerves. The man who loses his nerve also loses his judgment.

Many successful business men use Wrigley's regularly. The act of chewing, they find, has a soothing effect. The healthful cleansing action of Wrigley's refreshes the mouth—gently stimulates the flow of natural juices—steadies the nerves.

Apart from its soothing effect on the nerves, Wrigley's is particularly beneficial after eating, drinking or smoking. It cleans the teeth, firms the gums, sweetens the breath—makes the mouth clean and healthy.

Use Wrigley's—it pays big dividends on a small investment.

STOCK VALUES WORK HIGHER

Leaders Show Weakness at Opening, Toronto; Leaders Down Under Selling

TORONTO, April 2.—Leading stocks on the Standard Mining exchange opened with sharp declines today but as the session went along, values in many cases worked higher.

Noranda ranged between $51.75 and $54.75, with the close at $53.25, a net decline of $2.50. International Nickel offered good resistance to the selling movement and closed only 50 cents from the top at $49.

Pend Oreille was an outstanding feature jumping to $14.25 after early dealings at $12, and ending at $13.75, an advance of $2.25. Several other western mining issues were stronger.

Grandview up 17¢ to 67 cents. Goldconda up 5 cents to $1.10, and Kootenay Florence up 2 cents to 19 cents. Premier dropped back 5 cents to $1.05 and Big Missouri was off 11 cents to $1.20.

Western Oils were inclined to be reactionary, although Southwest Petroleum and Mayland each scored gains of 25 cents at $4.75 and $7.25, respectively. Home Oil fell back 50 cents to $17.75, while Associated was down 25 cents to $4, and Pothills down 25 cents to $7.50. A broken lot of Royalite changed hands at $160 up $5.

Mandy Mines was the only stock in the Manitoba group to move upward, its gain being 5¢ to $1.35. Hudson Bay declined 25 cents to $19, while Sherritt-Gordon dipped 40 cents to $8.50.

Lake Shore rallied to $25, an advance of $1.15. Other Kirkland stocks were rather soft.

CALL MONEY IS 12 PER CENT ALL DAY AT NEW YORK

Oils Develop Group Strength; Some High Priced Issues Bid Up Sharply

NEW YORK, April 2.—Prices made substantial recoveries throughout the list in today's stock market but speculative sentiment appeared to have cooled off and the day's turnover fell off to 3,756,370 shares in contrast to the record of 9,246,740 just a week ago.

The most unsavory development of the day came after the close, when the stock exchange announced that member loans reached a new high record of $6,904,457.408 on March 30, a gain of $135,911,491, since the end of February, more than offsetting the drop of $56,618,000 during the month.

Call money held at 12 per cent all day. Some time money for 30 to 60 days was said to have been loaned at nine per cent, the highest rate since early in 1920, but funds of this character mostly moved at 8½ per cent.

The oil shares developed outstanding group strength on reports that crude production fell off sharply last week. Houston and Indiana refining rose four to five points to new peaks, while Pan-American issues, Shell Union and Standard of New Jersey gained new high ground in gains of two or three points.

Some of the high-priced issues were bid up sharply. Adams Express was sent up 35 points to a record price of $625. American Express and American Railway Express were bid up more than 16 points each but were unable to maintain their gains.

Commercial Solvents mounted 26½ points to a record price at $285. International Telephone advanced more than 11 points to $273½, but closed at 268½. Bethlehem Steel sold up more than three points on the statement of President Grace and steels generally were firm.

Baldwin Locomotive was a soft spot, dropping 13 points on a small turnover. Eastman Kodak yielded two points on the 1928 earnings statement showing a slight reaction from 1927.

Kirkland Lake Gold Sinking Shaft to 4,000

TORONTO, April 2.—J. B. Tyrell, managing director of Kirkland Lake Gold Mines, announces that shaft-sinking will be pushed to 4000 feet depth. Milling will be continued at about the same rate as present and no new levels will be opened up until the shaft objective is reached. The lowest station is now cut at 3350-foot level and the shaft is down 25 feet past that. It is expected the 4000-foot depth will be attained inside six months. The favorable feature is that Mr. Tyrell has steadfastly maintained Kirkland Lake was a deep proposition, and the new hoist, recently installed, has a capacity of operating to 5800 feet. The last year's drifting on the 2850 to 3250-foot levels has revealed improved ore, and more ore. The mill during the past year has operated at a rate to pay for all development expenditures, and the company as reported at the annual meeting is in the position of having everything paid for.

GROSS EARNINGS OF C. N. R. ON INCREASE

MONTREAL, April 2.—The gross earnings of the Canadian National railways for the 10-day period ending March 31, 1929, were $7,259,145 as compared with $7,234,155 for the corresponding period of 1928, an increase of $25,018.

Mining Stocks Move Up As Demand Increases

As a result of the growing demand, prices of sound mining stocks have commenced a slow advance which will rapidly gain momentum as more money is diverted from oil stocks to the mining market.

Rock-bottom prices have been reached during the last week, sound metal stocks have been accumulated in strong hands and higher prices for market leaders are inevitable.

In addition to a stronger mining market, advancing metal prices will also give added impetus to the upward swing.

Our best advice to prospective investors is to pick up sound mining issues. If you are in doubt as to the prospects of various mining enterprises, consult our Statistical Dept.

IRREGULARITY ON MONTREAL LIST

Opening Is Weak; Nickel, Brazilian Off; McKinnon Still Is Exception

MONTREAL, April 2.—Prices on the Montreal stock exchange today moved in an irregular manner. After the three-day holiday the opening was decidedly weak under the pressure of heavy selling. The rally in the afternoon enabled the majority of the issues to recover their earlier recessions.

International Nickel had sales totaling 36,305 shares, and closed at $49 for a net loss of 3 1/2 points, after touching $46 1/2 in the early trading. Brazilian sold down to $57 1/2, but closed at $60, off 3 points on a turnover of 30,155 shares.

Power Corporation was also active and had 2046 shares dealt in, and finished the day with a loss of 1 1/2 points at $102 1/2.

McKinnon Steel and Dominion Textile preferred were outstanding exceptions to the general trend. The former closed at $48, for a net gain of six points, while the latter was up 1 1/2 at the new high of $135. Lake of the Woods sold up 2 points at $67.

GOLD HILL FINDS IMPROVEMENT, DEPTH

Although Gold Hill sold shares above the market price following increased capitalization last May, the sum realized was not sufficient to complete the programme of development work on the upper levels recommended by Victor A. James, E.M., says President D. H. Angus in a report covering the year's developments.

Since development work on the upper levels was discontinued last July the shaft has been sunk from the 800-foot level to the 1100-foot level and approximately 1200 feet of cross-cutting and drifting has been done on the 1000 and 1100-foot horizons. On the 1100-foot level, where the vein was first encountered in the cross-cut from the shaft, values were found

MINING CHATTER FROM THE EAST

Word is received that Mandy is now cross-cutting the 600-foot level being opened up first, and that the 675 feet or so required to get to the indicated ore body will be covered by the end of March.

Sudbury Contact, controlled by Mentor Exploration Co., has been having a winter's campaign carried out, including diamond drilling intended to cut the south rake of Sudbury Basin's ore at Vermilion Lake. Contact has not yet far after it got listed on the market, but there has been recent activity and strengthening, which might indicate something on the tapis.

The name Noranda was selected, as a contribution from the first three letters of Northern, and the last three letters of Canada. In the Rouyn district there are several mining properties ending with "Nor", Orléans, Newbec, Ontario, etc. The tail-end of their names have been adopted from the last three letters of the province of Quebec.

Dominion Explorers Ltd. have established a base at Lac La Ronge, Northern Saskatchewan, and the decks are being cleared for a titanic conquest of the sub-Arctic circles again this summer. This is a Lindsay enterprise, and there has been little or nothing heard of their initial successes. The street is not forgetting that any big degree of mineral success may be expected to add further asset to other Lindsay companies.

Base Metals corporation, in which mining corp., has an important interest, is likely to start construction of its 300-ton daily capacity mill shortly, and get into operation by October. Ore reserves are given at 300,000 tons showing an approximate gross value of $30 a ton, and profit of around $10 per ton.

While there will only be some three months' operation shown for 1929, it is expected to store up an operation surplus of between $300,000 and $400,000 to start 1930 with. Officials have estimated the rapid accumulation of the profit will allow early dividends on base metals shares.

MINING ISSUES MAKE COMEBACK

Oil Trend Mixed; Pend Oreille and Reeves McDonald Make Gains

VANCOUVER, April 2.—Trading was in heavy volume on the stock exchange today with the mining issues claiming a much larger share of attention. The oil issues turned over in greater volume but after a strong opening the price trend became rather mixed and the close showed losses and gains about equally divided. On the other hand the mines were strong although some ground was lost from the peak of the morning.

Pend Oreille opened $2.30 higher at $15 but sold down to close at $13.70, a net gain of one dollar. Reeves McDonald sold up to $4.50, closing 40c net higher at $4.90. Grandview finished 4 1/2 cents higher at 69c after selling up to 67c in the early trading.

Pend Oreille, Reeves McDonald and Grandview were extremely heavy traders. Big Missouri was 8c stronger at $1.48; George Copper 25c to $6.80; Goldconda 5c to $1.11 while Oregon Copper, Noble Five and Kootenay King were two to three points stronger.

In the oil Royalties was strong selling up to $175 and closing with a net gain of $20 at $170. Advance Oil opened up strong selling to $8.50 and closing $1.75 higher at $7.50. Home starting $50 lower at $19 sold down to close at $18 for a net loss of $1.50. Dalhousie, a heavy trader, lost 40c to $5.35 after touching $5.75. A.P. Consolidated closed unchanged at $3.25 and United Oil, after opening 50c stronger, closed unchanged at $11.75. Gains and losses ranging between 20c to 50c were scattered through the balance of the oil list.

The Man Hater

By Lorna Libby

Here's the story:

JACK HEMINGWAY is mysteriously shot in a night club. He is seen to be mortally wounded, but the instant he slumps in his chair the lights go out and reveal no trace of Hemingway. With him the same evening is

JEAN HARPER, pert, but pretty and eager for excitement. Agitated with horror at the shooting and the apparent mysterious disappearance of the body, she is rescued by SPIKE ANDRUS, and eleven rushed from the scene. Spike is a young newspaperman who wants to save Jean a police grilling and consequent publicity from her being Hemingway's companion and the last person to speak to him. Spike and Jean live in Humboldt, fifteen miles from Louisville, the scene of the trouble, so he decides to drive her home. At Jean's house she learns that Spike's interest in her is more than casual.

Spike's heart thumped madly. The thought of old man Harper's probable imminent arrival home chilled him. He coughed embarrassedly.

"Have you got anything to eat in the house?" he asked.

Jean was surprised. "Sure," she said evenly, without a trace of disappointment. "I think there's part of a cold chicken—downstairs." She was tempted to add, "if you think that's better than a live one up here," but refrained.

She and Spike tipped down the back stairs carefully to avoid waking the family servants. Once in the kitchen they closed the doors and, lit the lights. Then Jean opened the ice box and emerged with half a cold chicken, some relish, butter and milk. Spike secured bread, knives and forks and within a few minutes both sat down to the kitchen table and began completing the fowl's demolition.

Spike was the first to speak. Washing down a mouthful of cold chicken with a tremendous gulp of milk he reached for a slab of bread and suddenly seemed to remember something. "Thoughtfully he buttered the bread and then looked up at Jean who was busy with the second joint.

"That reminds me," Spike said slowly, "Louisville Lou's was the second joint I hit tonight. Remember Guinness Mike, the guy who cooked the State Bank last year? I heard he was in town and was throwing a party in a dive so I began a systematic tour. First I went to the Frivoly Club and then came on over to Lou's. I only got there about five minutes before the shooting. Say, got any more milk?"

Jean bustled into the pantry and found more milk which she brought out to Spike.

"Thanks," said Spike, pouring himself another beaker full. "As soon as I came in Lou's I saw you with this Hemingway. It never hit me that way before, but I felt kind of funny seeing you there with him."

"Have some more milk," urged Jean, "most of my friends get mellow on gin, but you seem to have a cow-jug. I like it, though," she added.

"Well," went on Spike, "I was looking at you when he was hit and I saw what you did. The blood, I mean. I guess he was killed all right. I hate to be a hog but I think I'll relish a sandwich with chicken."

The relish dish was empty so Jean secured more.

"Be careful of the English mustard," she warned, "you seem to be getting warmer."

"Believe it or not," said Spike, "while I looked at you just during those few seconds before the lights went out, all the well-interest, you can call it affection if you like—I've had for you since we were kids in high school sort of crystallized. You looked helpless, as a matter of fact you were, and I knew if I didn't get you out of there quick, you'd be out of luck."

"Am I to understand this is a formal declaration of love?" Jean asked. "Because if it is there are some things I want to say."

"Yes," Spike answered, coloring slightly.

"I'm glad you said that," answered Jean, drawing her chair closer and abandoning the chicken bone. She rested both elbows on the table and looked at Spike with soft, intent eyes. "I was afraid for a moment you wanted me to be a sister to you."

"No," reassured Spike, "we won't be just pals or just good friends either. I take it then that you are agreeable to my new role?"

"You're not as dumb as all that, Spike."

"Well, I know I'm a hell of a lover," he answered, self-reproachfully, "but you know how busy I've been—I've had to be a social hermit in order to get financially where I could tell you how much I thought of you. You can't play every instrument in the band."

"I know—but you can shut off the vox tremolo," Jean said. "Don't feel so sorry for yourself. Honestly, Spike, you make too much of a god of your work. You ought to have time for other things, too. Me—for instance."

"All right, I will," said Spike, resuming his attack on the chicken. "but I wish you'd cut out all this gin drinking and all the wild parties. Your reputation is still good but it won't be if you don't slow down."

"I suppose you're still worrying about Jack Hemingway," laughed Jean. "Spike, don't be like that. I'm not bad, really. I'm not. But I do love excitement. Months ago I got tired of all parlor petters and all the local talent. You never would give me a tumble anyway so I started going around with Hemingway."

"He's—or at least he was nice looking and he had good lines. He only tried to get fresh once—and I told him where he got off. I wonder who took him away tonight?"

"You've got everybody there, Jean," he said, "don't worry about yourself though. I'm going to the city tomorrow and I'll swoop around and find out if the police have any idea you were there. I'm sure they haven't though or they'd have been here before now. You'll have to steer clear of Louisville for some time—and remember that! And Jean . . ."

"Yes—dear."

"Well," he said quickly, embarrassed, "you can do something for me if you will—will you?"

"Of course, I will—you have but to command," with mock seriousness.

"All right—I have business matter that's worrying me—about the paper. You can whisper a few words in your father's ear and get me out of a bad hole."

Jean was disappointed. Spike's business again! "Later," she begged. "Tell me about it in a day or so—I'll do anything I can. But I just couldn't stand anything more tonight. You understand."

"Sure," said Spike, "that's all right—now please don't fret any more about what happened tonight."

"Every time I think of it I get the horrors," said Jean, slowly, a note of fear creeping in her voice, "the murder was terrible enough but to have the body disappear that way . . ."

"Don't think about it dear."

His affection surprised Jean and she began to smile.

"Late at night everything seems scary," Spike went on, "tomorrow it will be different. You haven't got anything to worry about anyway. I think I'd better be in now—Please don't forget what I told you."

Jean followed Spike out to the front hall and helped him on with his coat. Spike reached for his hat and stood hesitating like an awkward schoolboy.

"Jean."

"Spike."

They swayed together. Her soft body yielded to the close, flower-grip of his arms, as he kissed her lightly at first, then with a hot intensity that startled her. It was the happiest moment of her life—she knew it was and relished it. She drew him closer to her with arms that caught the glorious infection of her body's throbbing ecstasy. At last, shaken to the depths of her being, she watched him go.

In the darkened living room Jean pressed her face to the window for a last glimpse of him as he strode down the street.

"I do love him—I know I do!" she ried to herself. "He's the only perfect man in the world."

Then when Spike rounded the corner, Jean turned back to the front hall to switch on the light. For the first time that night she noticed a yellow telegram envelope, bearing her name resting on the ledge beneath the pier glass. It had evidently come after she had left early in the evening. In the excitement of her return with Spike she hadn't noticed it.

Jean turned out the light and with the sealed message in her hand went up to her room. By the dresser light she opened it.

CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC'S PROFITS SHOW AN INCREASE

Additional Machinery Installed to Keep Up With Advances in Electrical World

TORONTO, April 2.—The annual report of the Canadian General Electric company for the year 1928, presented to the shareholders shows net profits after reserves, taxes and depreciation were $3,694,606 compared with $3,103,153 in 1927, an increase of $1,591,452 or 51 per cent. The sum of $599,042 was distributed in dividends on the preference stock leaving a surplus of $3,095,564, amounting to approximately 116 per cent on the common stock. From this amount is deducted a special appropriation of $2,865,871 for reduction of plant and property values, leaving the sum of $229,732 added to surplus which now stands at $3,204,625.

LIQUID POSITION
Current assets amount to $13,427,800 while current liabilities total $2,068,654, leaving a working capital of $11,359,146, an increase of $1,949,271 or 20 per cent over the previous year. Dominion Government bonds $4,200,573 and cash on hand $1,498,726, a total of $5,699,299 compared with $3,145,486 at the end of 1927, an increase of $2,553,813.

Investments in securities other than Dominion Government bonds amount to $2,096,785, an increase of $1,106,949. The company experienced a considerable increase in average volume of production and total shipments from its factories and warehouses during the year, unfilled orders at the end of the year were 16 per cent larger than at the beginning of the year.

The company has no funded debt or outstanding notes payable.

In order to keep pace with the increasing requirements for electrical apparatus and appliances in Canada, the company in 1928 expended the sum of $892,641 in additional machinery and equipment for the purpose of enlarging its manufacturing facilities. The amount of $3,360,000 has been expended for this purpose during the last five years.

During 1928 the company expended over $13,000,000 for material, supplies and equipment purchases being made in Canada wherever possible. Salaries and wages amounted to approximately $6,000,000.

NEW DIRECTORS ELECTED

James A. Richardson, of Winnipeg, was elected a director to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Hon. R. B. Bennett.

The retiring directors were re-elected, and following the annual meeting the directors re-elected A. E. Dymont, chairman of the board; D. C. Durland, president, and Etienne Haas, vice-president.

Vancouver's Grain Export Will Beat That of Last Year

VANCOUVER, April 2.—It is expected that before the middle of April the grain export for 1928-29 season will exceed the total of the season 1927-28 when 80,254,688 bushels were shipped and 3,000,000 bushels remained in store. To Monday morning at 8 o'clock the total export from Vancouver this season has been 77,469,536 bushels. There are 5,945,968 bushels in stock in elevators and 3,970,000 bushels en route on railways.

The ships in port today are booked to load 1,069,000 bushels. During March this year the elevators loaded 12,779,592 bushels to ships as compared with 9,769,594 bushels in March 1928. Total exports at the end of March 1928 were 56,334,086 bushels.

Iron and Steel Trade Better in Old Land

LONDON, April 2.—Four large steel works have been opened in South Wales and at the same time a better demand is manifested both at home and abroad for South Wales coal. This development, says T. H. Morely, new president of the Cardiff chamber of commerce, betokens that this part of the country is fully sharing in the general trade improvement. The South American coal market is undoubtedly being recaptured by Wales in his opinion.

From northern England also comes reports of considerable improvement in the iron and steel industry. Presiding at the annual meeting of Vickers, Limited, General Sir Herbert Lawrence said yesterday: "We are sowing the seeds of a new industrial era, and although we may not reap the harvest immediately, the time is not far distant when changes in our production methods and the advantages of cooperation, will again give a satisfactory yield to those associated with British industry."

ORE ENDS ABOVE FIFTH LEVEL ON B. C. PROPERTY

Enough in Sight for Nearly Two Years at 1928 Rate; Developing Three Other Mines

SPOKANE, April 2.—In the nine years and a month of its existence up to December 31, 1928, the Premier Gold mining company, operating at Premier, B. C., near Stewart, B. C., and Hyder, Alaska, produced 1,316,400 tons of ore. The total production of metals for the same period was 930,570 ounces of gold and 24,103,231 ounces of silver according to the annual report of H. A. Guess, vice-president and managing director, New York.

The total profits, after deducting taxes but before deducting for depletion and depreciation, were $17,040,957. The distribution to shareholders in the same period, including the last one on January 4, aggregated $13,052,898.

MADE $2,342,982 IN 1928.
In the last year, the value of the ore sold was $3,180,118. The operating and miscellaneous expenses were $935,571 and the earnings from mine operations were $2,244,546. This is increased to $2,342,982 by the addition of $98,435 in net miscellaneous profits.

The sum of $202,335 is charged off for depreciation, $1,057,531 for depletion, $179,396 for income taxes and $6805 for administrative expenses, leaving $896,910 as a balance in profits for the year available for dividends. The dividends paid in the year were $1,300,898.

Of broken and unbroken ore down to the fifth level there are 465,203 tons estimated, averaging 41 of an ounce of gold and 11.88 ounces of silver to the ton, or 14.14 a ton with gold at $20 and silver at 50 cents an ounce. The production in 1928 was 275,811 tons. The reserve at the end of 1927 was 634,537 tons, averaging 48 of an ounce of gold and 9.49 ounces of silver to the ton. The reserve at the end of 1928 was 178,334 tons less than at the end of 1927, which means that only 97,477 tons of new ore was found and opened in 1928, says Mr. Guess.

Profitable values disappear just above the fifth level and no ore of a profitable grade has been disclosed in drifting along the main ore channels on the sixth level which is 275 feet below the fifth level, nor did diamond drilling on the sixth level disclose ore. "It may be assumed, therefore, as practically certain that the mine has bottomed just above the fifth level," says Mr. Guess.

Dominion Iron and Steel Profits Same as Year Ago

MONTREAL, April 2.—The financial statement of Dominion Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., a subsidiary of British Empire steel corporation, shows about the same operating profits for 1928 as for the previous year, $1,843,328, compared with $1,859,215. After deductions of interest on the first mortgage and consolidated bonds amounting to $861,357 and bond discount of $56,061 and interest of $187,001 for inter-company balances as well as $189,400 for sinking fund there remained a surplus, before depreciation, of $979,572 as compared with $745,118 in 1927. This amount was carried forward increasing profit and loss surplus from $835,183 to $1,014,756, but without making provision in either of the past two years for depreciation. Dominion Iron & Steel Co., since the middle of 1926 has been in charge of the National Trust Co., as receiver and manager.

Operating profits of Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Co. for the year 1928 were $559,339, against $557,333 in the previous year.

The financial statement of Dominion Steel corporation is a combination approximately of Dominion Coal and Dominion Iron and Steel, its two subsidiaries. The figures for 1928 show operating revenue of $3,187,576, a considerable decline from the total of $4,358,114 shown for 1927, thus reflecting the drop of over $1,100,000 in the earnings of the Dominion Coal Co.

At a recent London wedding not only were all the seven bridesmaids dressed entirely in velvet of a rich red color, but the bride's gown in Platanet period style had long hanging sleeves lined with red velvet, and the same vivid color appeared at a piping to the train which flowed from the waist of the gown, while a huge ruby cross, a coronet of pearls mingled with rubies, and the crimson velvet-bound prayer-book which she carried added further touches of color.

LEADSMITH ENDS YEARS HUNTING

Two Feet of High Grade Says Mining Engineer, Referring to Sandon Property

SPOKANE, April 2.—After three years of search for a mine underground the leadsmith mine, operating near Sandon, B. C., is believed to have come into its own.

The search was for the downward continuation of the ore body disclosed in the upper workings 30 years ago. A report yesterday afternoon from C. B. White, mining engineer in charge, received at the Spokane office of the company, tells of the disclosure of a full face of lead-silver ore.

The scene of the strike is in a drift from a raise from the deep tunnel level. The raise is 29 feet above the tunnel and has been run a short distance, but in ore. Two feet of the body contains 45 per cent lead and 68 ounces of silver to the ton, according to the engineer's report. That was back in the drift a few feet. An increased width was revealed rapidly as the drift was advanced. The entire face is in ore but whether solely of a milling grade or partly of the unusually high grade is not stated in the report.

This body is the sixth encountered in the course of recent drifting on the tunnel level.

In its search for the ore at depth, the leadsmith company crossed 700 feet to the vein and drifted on for more than 4000 feet. The high grade body, disclosed 29 feet above the tunnel, lies at a depth of 1000 feet on the dip below the apex of the vein. It is stated. Development of the rich shoot is to be followed by exploration of the five others.

Wheat Is Higher, Corn Is Off and Oats Hold Firm

CHICAGO, April 2.—Wheat prices rallied in lively fashion today after an early setback. To an important extent, the late upturns were responsive to buying here against simultaneous selling at Winnipeg, and evening up progress to balance recent large spread trades which were of exactly a reverse character.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were firm, 3/4 to 1 1/2 cent net higher, whereas corn finished 1/4 to 1/2 cent off, with oats unchanged to 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower and provisions varying from 5 to 7c decline to a rise of 40 cents.

MULHOLLAND TO SEE HOLLYWOOD

So States Vancouver Paper;
Visits Vancouver Mines
Chamber

Says the Vancouver Sun:
"Another British Columbia prospector who has found fortune in the hills and is enjoying a holiday with the returns
is Jack Mulholland of Nelson, at present sojourning in Vancouver and about to visit California.
Jack Mulholland has put in 37 years in the Kootenay country. He reports recently selling six claims to the "consolidated but is not communicative about the price. He is a bit of a poet and has brought with him a collection of verses written by the camp fire
He is going to Hollywood where he hopes to induce some producer to use Kootenay mining camp as the background for a romance of that country.
One of the original organizers of the Western B. C. chamber of mines, Mr.
Mulholland is greatly interested in the Vancouver chamber and is renewing acquaintance here with many old-time
mining men, including Frank Woodside, manager of the local chamber of mines."
